

Assumptions:

- When teams are re-assigned to a different region, they are removed from their old one. In other words, a team can only work with, at most, one region
- Number of calls per day can be calculated by simply counting the number of rows logged between x and y date and that are of type a or b by using the "customer_info" table; there is no need to include them as separate fields

Assumptions

- When renting a DVD, the name and number of the customer as well as all the DVD info can be acquired by searching up the appropriate dvdnumber/memberID in the dvd/customer_info table ; there is no need to keep that info again